

Fragile States Analysis

Directions: Using the data provided, give each nation a score from 1-5 (5 being the least stable and 1 being the most stable) in each category. State the specific data that supports your score for each country.

	Social Indications: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Demographic Pressures • Refugees and IDPs • Group Grievances • Human Flight and Brain Drain 	Economic Indicators: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Uneven Economic Development • Poverty and Economic Decline 	Political and Military Indicators: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • State Legitimacy • Public Services • Human Rights and Rule of Law • Security • Factionalized Elites • External Intervention 	OVERALL RANKING: Consider which categories you think are the most important to the stability of a state. Explain your reasons for your ranking.
Canada
Finland
New Zealand

	Social Indications: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Demographic Pressures • Refugees and IDPs • Group Grievances • Human Flight and Brain Drain 	Economic Indicators: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Uneven Economic Development • Poverty and Economic Decline 	Political and Military Indicators: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • State Legitimacy • Public Services • Human Rights and Rule of Law • Security • Factionalized Elites • External Intervention 	OVERALL RANKING: Consider which categories you think are the most important to the stability of a state. Explain your reasons for your ranking.
Sweden
Norway				